

FIRST JULY WEEK OPENS TO-DAY AT NEWMARKET

Devizes' Chance in Hare Park Handicap.

WET WIMBLEDON.

The King and Queen Open New Lawn Tennis Headquarters.

Wet weather interfered with the start of the world's lawn tennis championships on the new ground of the All-England Club at Wimbledon yesterday, when the King and Queen were present. Rain also hampered cricket considerably. The features of the day were:—

Lawn Tennis.—Major A. R. F. Kingscote, England's chief hope in the men's singles, won his first round match very easily, beating L. A. Godfree 6-1, 6-3, 6-0.

Cricket.—Batsmen, for once in a way, had a bad time owing to yesterday's rain.

Racing.—There was no racing yesterday, but to-day Newmarket and Carlisle will occupy the attention of sportsmen.

NEWMARKET PROSPECTS.

Legality's Big Chance in the July Stakes—Carlisle Hints.

Long-awaited rain has come in time to ensure some excellent racing at Newmarket this week. At its worst, the "going" on the July course is never really hard, and the showers during the week-end have made it well-nigh perfect.

There is a charm about the two July gatherings that is missing on the adjacent Rowley Mile course. On a fine day the Plantation is one of the most delightful spots to be found on any racecourse in England, and there is always a picnic air about the racing foreign to most other meetings.

DOUBLE EVENT FOR TO-DAY.

*DEVIZES and LEGALITY.

Much the most interesting race to-day is the July Stakes, in which Legality is to be given a chance to atone for his Ascot defeat. And from all accounts he is confidently expected to do so.

Lord Furness' colt would have beaten Scyphus in the Spring Stakes had he started with the same celerity as the Stockbridge colt. At Ascot he behaved himself better at the "gate," but even then lost a bit of ground and was beaten a length by Town Guard.

A FANCY FOR DEVIZES.

The latter's stable companion, Ishtar, runs for Gilpin, but, although she did not show her best form at Ascot, it is no secret that she is a good bit behind Town Guard. In the circumstances it looks as if Legality has only to get off with his opponents to win.

Devizes represents Jack Jarvis in preference to Yashka in the Hare Park Handicap, and in spite of his 10st. I do not think he will be beaten. At first glance it looks a stiff task, but Sir William Cooke's horse is up to the weight, and it must be remembered that the minimum is 7st.

Nippon, who ran fairly well at Ascot, would be dangerous at her best, and Desire is thought to have more than an outside chance. The latter was one of Fred Power's victims at Ascot, and previously he had dead-heated with Clochnabun at Wolverhampton—in front of Varzy—only to be disqualified for bumping and boring.

Captain Fracasse, fresh from his triumph in the North Derby, runs for the Bottisham Stakes, and he is thought to possess a big chance of repeating his Newcastle victory.

TAMAR NOT GOING.

Harpenden has also been well galloped, but neither may beat Otford, one of Alec Taylor's few runners at the meeting, who goes here in preference to the smart Lady Juror.

By the way, Tamar will not be sent for the Princess of Wales' Stakes on Thursday, and, with Captain Cuttle in reserve for Goodwood, Blandford will doubtless start a good favourite. Manton's representative will be Galaciella, who finished second to Pogrom at Ascot, and Silver Image is to make another attempt to win over a mile and a half.

Promoted to a three-day meeting, Carlisle promises some interesting sport—and a good time for the Northern stables.

Newmarket, however, will make a big attempt to win the £1,000 Cumberland Handicap, and in spite of his Ascot failure Spithead may be good enough in the company he finds himself to-day. Woodrow will probably be the pick of the Northerners. He ran quite well at Newcastle last week.

Peacock, who is expected to send out several winners during the three days, may start with Proud Polly colt in the Carlisle Plate, and another stable to follow is Captain Renwick's.

BOUVERIE.

Major A. F. Kingscote, one of England's chief "hopes" in the lawn tennis championship.

Waddington, the Yorkshire bowler, who caused a Kent collapse at Leeds yesterday.

MIDNIGHT SELECTIONS BY WHITE KNIGHT.

Likely Winners To-day at Newmarket and Carlisle.

Wiring last night, White Knight says:— Legality in the July Stakes looks the good thing of the day, while Luckearn ought to win the Maiden Stakes.

TO-DAY'S DOUBLE.

LUCKEARN and LEGALITY.

SIX FOR TWO.

Waddington's Startling Bowling Yesterday Against Kent.

Six wickets for two runs. This was Waddington's remarkable analysis at Leeds yesterday when Kent's innings was continued in the match against Yorkshire, and all this good work was the result of four overs and a ball.

Kent, who had scored 143 on Saturday, collapsed in starting fashion on a drying pitch, and their six outstanding wickets fell for an additional 20 runs.

This is how the Kent wickets fell: Ashdown added but 3 to his Saturday total, Hurst did not improve upon his score of 25, and then Waddington disposed of Hubble, Troughton and Povey for "ducks." Freeman hit up 11 and there were 6 added to the extras. Fourteen runs, therefore, came from the bat. Waddington's figures were:—

	o.	m.	r.	w.
	25.1	7	39	8

In Yorkshire's innings Holmes was dismissed directly he had completed 1,000 runs for the season. Sutcliffe and Oldroyd added 104 for the second wicket, and at the finish Yorkshire, with a wicket to fall, led by 110.

Fine Cambridge Bowling.—G. O. Allen, the Eton freshman, was in form with the ball at Colchester. Rumour has it that he is Cambridge's best bowler. He captured five Essex wickets yesterday and altogether had the fine analysis of six for 72.

Percy Perrin did not stay much longer after reaching his century, but he had played capital cricket for four hours and twenty minutes. H. M. Morris also played a fine game, and his partnership with Perrin yielded 114. Essex were all out just before lunch-time for 353, and rain put a stop to any further play.

Good Bowling.—R. C. Robertson-Glasgow captured six Leicester wickets for 40 runs, at Leicester, and at Derby Morton took four Glamorgan wickets in his first eight overs at a cost of only 3 runs.

CRICKET SCORE BOARD.

Bowlers' Day on Many Rain-Soaked and Damaged Wickets.

Rain prevented any play at Lord's, Horsham, Northampton, and Worcester yesterday. Below will be found a summary of the chief happenings in the day's cricket.

YORKSHIRE v. KENT—At Leeds.

NO PLAY IN THESE MATCHES.

Middlesex v. Hans; at Lord's; Sussex v. Surrey, at Northampton; Worcester v. Somerset, at Worcester; Northants v. Notts, at Northampton.

Dark Blues' Swimmers Beaten.—Other Swimming Club defeated Oxford University S.C. in a series of events and a water polo match at the Royal Automobile Club last night.

Stage Golfers at Wimbledon.—The Stage Golfing Society's President's Prize was won on the Royal Wimbledon course yesterday by R. Hattersley with net scores of 74 and 73 and an aggregate of 147.

WIMBLEDON'S START.

Godfree Secures Interesting Souvenir of First Match.

Rain considerably hampered the start of the world's lawn tennis championships meeting at Wimbledon yesterday, which was attended by the King and Queen. The architect and members of the committee were presented to the royal party, who after inspecting the centre court made a tour of the new building.

The first match on the centre court was started at 3.30, when Major A. R. F. Kingscote opposed L. A. Godfree.

Some amusement was caused by Godfree—who made the first stroke on the new court, and to which Kingscote netted in response—securing the ball and putting it in his pocket. He thus secured a noteworthy souvenir of a memorable occasion.

Although Godfree revealed some good form, Kingscote, who won in straight sets, was by far the more consistent, and, on the whole, indicated that he is in excellent form. Godfree lost ground through service lapses, especially in the earlier stages, and his neat back-hand stroke was deficient in power.

The score in Kingscote's favour was 6-1, 6-3, 6-0, and it was announced after the match that there would be no play on the unprotected "surround" courts.

There was a sentimental interest attached to the second match on the centre court in the appearance of A. W. Gore, thrice singles champion, and F. J. Riseley, former doubles champion, who helped to make lawn tennis history.

They were opposed in the first round of the men's doubles by W. C. Crawley and A. W. Asthalter, an Anglo-American combination, of superb style and terrific hitting. The veteran pair made many delightful strokes, but Crawley and Asthalter played brilliantly, and, keeping their opponents on the run, won 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

GOLF ON THE CONTINENT.

Entries for the French Open Amateur Championship.

The following entries have been received for the French open amateur championship, which takes place at Le Touquet next week:—

A. G. Robinson and G. A. Dixon, St. Cloud; Stoner Crowther, L. H. Hendricks, E. A. Wilson, F. L. Payne and A. W. S. Aldridge, Coombe Hill; C. S. Lipscomb (holder) and M. Fraser, Boulogne; Bernard Drew and G. Mellor, Stoke Poges; Captain R. Johnson, Sunningdale; Hon. M. Scott, L. Werner, K. N. Bullen and Hon. Denys Scott, Le Touquet; M. van Vleck, U.S.A.; A. M. Vagliano, La Boulie; C. H. Young, Bristol; L. B. Orrell, D'Etretat; J. Gratz, Canada; David Brown, Royal Liverpool; and Jacques Castel, Chantilly.

ANGLING HOLIDAYS.

How to Enjoy One's Vacation by the Riverside.

SOME FAMOUS RESORTS.

Most people who follow any kind of sport have anatomised the rain during the past week-end. That is, all but golfers and anglers.

Golf on our recent burnt-up greens and hard-baked fairways has not been a pleasure, and anglers have been looking at the skies for weeks past in the hopes of a deluge to freshen up the rivers for their angling holiday.

An angling holiday is one of the most delightful, especially if you can take a pal with you. A motor-car, motor-cycle, or even a push-bike are useful, perhaps one might say really necessary adjuncts to the holiday.

I spent a month last year in Lincolnshire fishing those wonderful rivers, carrying my rod, a la rifle, strapped across my back, and my fishing basket fastened to the million of a motor-cycle, and went to spots so far from railway stations that I should never have reached them in the ordinary way.

I found the big bream feeding in remote reaches of the River Witham, I fished the Forty Foot and several other rivers, and I met with sport I should never have attained in such a summer of drought.

WHERE TO GO.

You may be a family man and can go to Skegness, Cromer, Yarmouth, Lowestoft, Scarborough, Margate, Bournemouth and a dozen and one resorts on the East and South Coasts, and in an hour's drive get to some of the finest haunts for coarse fishing. It is early yet for pike fishing, but holiday anglers are satisfied provided they can find the roach, bream, carp, tench, perch, or dace in sporting mood. Visitors to Yarmouth and Lowestoft will have the Broads, the rivers Yare, Waveney and Buro to hand. From Skegness the drains and rivers of Lincolnshire lie as an open book before them. Scarborough people can fish the Yorkshire Derwent and other rivers, Chelton people have also a big choice a few miles inland.

Those who go to Ramsgate and Margate can fish in the Stour at Grove Ferry. From Brighton, Lewes, Barton Mills and other places on the Sussex Ouse are available.

Visitors to Bournemouth have the famous River Avon, the home of big fish. And so on all round the coast. I have mentioned the East Coast and Southern resorts particularly because the rivers of the west are more or less preserved for trout fishing. Still, there is one wonderful paradise of the coarse fisherman on that side, I refer, of course, to the River Severn, and a car or motor-cycle will take the eager angler from many seaside resorts to famous stretches of the river.

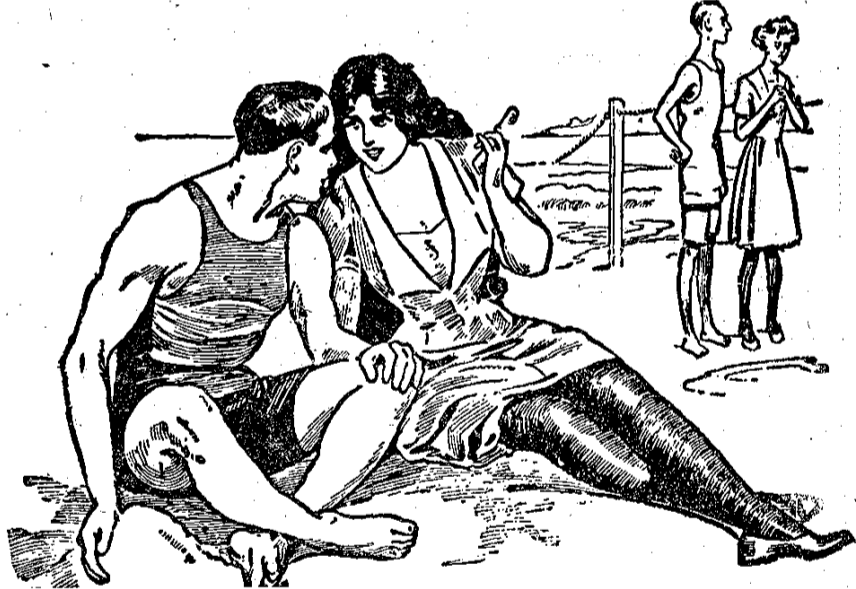

And then, if it is only an angling holiday that is sought by a couple of enthusiasts, the fenlands of England from Cambridge and St. Neots northward and eastward will repay anyone.

HOW TO BECOME PLUMP, POPULAR AND ATTRACTIVE.

New Discovery Works Wonders in Building up Run-Down Men and Women.

Increases Weight, Strength and Powers of Endurance. Try It. Just Fine for Thin Folks.

"Look at that pair of skinny scarecrows. Why don't they try Sargol?"

Would a little more flesh make you more stylish and attractive? Would 10 or 20 pounds more make you better satisfied with your personal appearance?

If so, you should try Sargol. It will make you nice and plump, give you greater strength, better health, and double your powers of endurance. No matter what the cause of your thinness is from, by all means give Sargol a trial.

It is undoubtedly the most powerful inducer of nutrition yet discovered. It increases cell growth, makes perfect assimilation of food, increases the number of blood corpuscles, and as a necessary result builds up muscles and solid, healthy flesh and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness, this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty-maker as well as a form-builder and nerve strengthener.

Men increase their nerve power as well as adding many pounds of good, healthy flesh.

When hundreds of men and women—and there are hundreds with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of our great Empire voluntarily testify to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 35 pounds, given them by Sargol, you must admit that there must be something in this Sargol method of flesh and strength building after all.

People who have been thin for years and who have felt that it was natural for them to be thin, have, in many instances, been able to put on weight at the rate of a pound a day by its use.

Sargol comes in tablet form and is very easy and pleasant to take. It calls for no drastic diet, no detention from business, and your nearest friends need not know what you are doing, until you astonish them with a visible and pleasing increase in weight.

Don't say it can't be done. Try it. Sargol is sold and recommended by good chemists everywhere. Price 3s. per box, or six boxes for 15s.
