Galante Colt Wins Under Penalty -Poignant's Dramatic End.

Normal conditions prevailed at New-market yesterday. The Suffolk Nursery Handicap was the chief attraction, and Galante colt carried his penalty to the fore. F. Bullock was successful on two of the winners. Other features of the day were winners. Other features of the day were:
Golf.—Miss Wethered continued her run of successes in the Women's Championship at Hunstanton. She will meet Miss J. Stocker in the final to day.

Lawn Tennis.—Dr. A. H. Fyzec, G. R. Sherwell and Miss K. McKane had easy victories in the covered courts tournament at Queen's Club.

GALANTE COLT'S WIN.

Moderate Sport at Third Stage of Newmarket Meeting.

Newmarket was its normal self again yesterday. Rings and stands bore quite a deserted appearance compared with twenty-four hours previously, when Light Dragoon and Tishy made history in the Cesarewitch

The racing also was much more sedate. Indeed, three events between them could not deed, three events between them could not muster up an aggregate of runners to beat the number that contested the Selling Plate.

Three runners and 7 to 4 the field showed the open character of the Bretby Stakes, It was won by Lord Derby's hitherto disappointing filly Tranquil, who gave Gardner an easy ride. From the stands it appeared that Felina did not strike off so well as the other pair, but I am not advancing this as an excuse for her defeat. She was beaten on her merits. So was Ishtar, who is evidently not as good as she was earlier in the season.

A quick beginning enabled Beersheba to beat Cistella in the Sel'ing Plate. Archibald was always hard at work on the favourite in the last two furlongs, but she gave little hope of catching the leader until meeting the rising ground. Then, with Beersheba stopping, the gap was reduced appreciably, but the winning-post was too near. Pryor, the hero of the Cesarewitch, finished third on Shireoaks. There will be plenty of riding for this young man in future.

HOW GALANTE COLT WON.

A poor sort of compliment was paid to the handicapper when Galante colt, with a 10lb henalty, was backed down to 13 to 8, in a field of twenty-two, for the Suffolk Nursery. In front practically from beginning to end, Lord Penrhyn's colt gave another illustration of the greater the field the greater the certainty, although he did not have a lot in hand of Witty. Golden Mesh ran well after a slow beginning, and so did Attrovaf until meeting the rise. With only Bucks Hussar to beat, Captain Fracasse enjoyed a benefit in the Lowther Stakes, and Papyrus was too good for The Owl in the Prendergast Stakes. There was a lot of talk about Hurry Off in connection with the latter race, but perhaps through lack of experience he was fighting a losing battle from start to finish. Americus Boy would have won before this had not four furlong races been abolished. He shut up like a knife again yesterday, and it will be very difficult to find a course to suit him.

A dash on the Irishman, O'Dorney, had disastrous results for those who followed the money in the Heath Handicap. The favour'te was always there with a chance until a furlong from home, when Lady Sleipner drew right away and won very easily. Poignant dropped dead two furlongs from home, fortunately without injury to his jockey, Lancaster, who has more than his fair share of troubles.

The Challenge Stakes was reduced to a match between Black Gown and Two Step. Odds were betted on Black Gown, but H. Jones beat Donoghue eleverly if not easily.

HINTS FOR TO-DAY.

With no Town Guard in the field, it appears that only an accident can prevent Drake winning the Middle Park Stakes to-day. Mrs. Whiteharn was out on the heaft to see the cold do a gallop yesterday morning, and it was a treat to watch this fine fellow stretching himself as if he thorough'y loved the game. Portumna is likely to finish second. Jarvie appears out of place in such class, in suite of his nursery size.

likely to finish second. Jarvie appears out of place in such class, in spite of his nursery successes. Beary rides Drake, and Joe Childs will have the mount on Portumna.

Dor.oghue, I hear, will ride John Green in the Exning Welter, but the King's colt has disappointed so frequertly that I must pass him over in favour of Wild Mint. Plas Newydd is expected to run well, and there are distinct possibilities about Paxton.

BOUVERIE.

The Cambridge University Hockey prospects cannot be considered very bright this season with only three old Blues in residence. B. G. Whitfield is the own captain, with J. I. Outram as hon. secretary. C. T. Ashton is the third Blue.

Ashton is also the captain of the Soccer team, and which is also the captain of the Soccer team, and there are distinct possibilities about Paxton.

A Busy Week-End Abroad for a Famous Ricer.

Shatwell, the well-known English jockey, is to ride George Lowe in the Prix de Seine in France today. He will have the same mount on Sunday in the Prix du Conseil Municipal.

He will then dash home and on to Ircland, where he is to ride for Jeffery's stable next week in the Irish Cesarewitch.

George Walsh and J. A. Brennan both left for South Africa yesterday. Brennan has been unwell during the greater part of his stay here, but Walsh, who rode Mizzen Mast in the Cesarewitch, has had a good summer, and intends to return in time for the opening of the next flat race season.

Dr. Fyzee's Success in the Covered Courts Championships.

An early start was necessary in the covered courts lawn tennis championships at Queen's Club yesterday owing to the failing light in the atternoon.

In the second round of the men's singles Dr. A. H. Fyzee defeated Major Larcomb 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, and G. R. Sherweil beat R. F. Traili 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Miss McKane, the holder of the women's singles title, had an easy victory over Mrs. Cobb, winning 6-2, 6-1. Mrs. Beamish also won easily, defeating Mrs. Grogen 6-0, 6-2.

GOLFING WONDER.

Miss Wethered's Tight Semi-Final with Miss Gourlay.

MISS STOCKER IN FINAL.

The semi-final rounds of the women's close golf championship were played off at Hunstanton vesterday. To-day Miss Joyce Wethered, the holder of the title, and Miss Joan Stocker, of Sheringham, will decide the final over thirty-six holes. In her semi-final with Miss Molly Gourlay, Miss Wethered had the hardest match of her caveer, Having lost the first two holes, one through badly pulling a tee shot and the other through missing a short, easy putt, she took command of the game for a time, and stood 3 up at the ninth.

So amazingly well was the champion playing that it Miss Gourlay had cracked up it would not have been surprising. On the contrary, whatever she may have felt, she seemed imperturbable, and rose to the occasion spleudidly. At the twelfth hole the match was square, with six to play. They were still level at the fifteenth, but at the seventeenth Miss Wethered surprisingly missed a 2ft putt.

They reached the home green level, and then Miss Wethered really had to putt for her title. Miss Gourlay went pluckity for the hole and her long putt just lipped the hole for a 3, which would have deposed the champion, but in the insectenth Miss Wethered holed from a 7ft, putt and so won the match.

On her play in this tournament Miss Wethered is Wethered noted from a 11. pass and match.

On her play in this tournament Miss Wethered is undoubtedly the golding wonder of the year.

The play in the semi-final between Miss Stocker and Miss Winn was not very interesting. Miss Stocker winning easily by 5 and 4 on the fourteenth green.

A SENSATIONAL SHOT.

A SENSATIONAL SHOT.

A SENSATIONAL SHOT.

In her fifth round match also Miss Wethered was not, at the start, in her usual brilliant mood, but she made amends, and at the long eleventh brought off a sensational shot. Playing into the teeth of the wind, she got to within 2th, of the pin, and won the hole in a magnificent 3.

It was a fine struggle between Miss M. Gourlay and Miss Hartill for the right to enter the seminal. — The former reached the ninth in 37, and turned 1 hole up.

Covering the twelfth and thirteenth, which measure 329 and 370 yards, in brilliant threes, Miss Gourlay made marticuly sure of the match. She averag d four for the sixteen holes played.

FIFTH ROUND RESULTS.

Miss J. Wefnered (Worple'don) beat Miss N. Bradley (Cooden Beach) by 7 and 5.

Miss Stocker beat Miss Winn by 5 up and 4 to play.

EXCITED PROFESSIONALS.

Poor Play in Final of Yorkshire Golf Foursomes.

Although there was some indifferent play, probably owing to excitement, on both sides, the victory of A. Yates (Oakdale) and J. Scarth (Doncaster) over J. C. Greaves (Dewsbury) and R. Smithson (Dewsbury) in the final round of the Yorkshire professional foursomes tournament at South Clift, Scarborough, vesterday, was thoroughly deserved. Yates and Scarth started brilliantly, and at the fitth hole they were three holes up. But it was now their turn to make frequent errors, and they lost three consecutive holes and turned all square. At the turn to make frequent errors, and they lost three consecutive holes and turned all square. At the turn Greaves missed a two-foot put for a half, an example of the poor putting of both sides seen during the match.

The turning point of the game came at the thirteenth, where Smithson duffed his drive. Greaves, his partner, duffed his drive, at the fourteenth and they lost both of these holes. Although both were on the fifteenth green with good tee shots, Yates and Scarth won the hole in three for the match by 4 and 3.

From 19 Hens, thanks to Karswood Poultry Spice (containing groun 'msects) and Karswood Complete Poultry Meal.

Here is practical unsolicited proof from a poultry keeper, we do not know and have never seen, that the Karswood nethod of feeding fowls will increase the egg returns. Last year Mr. Coster only got 3 eggs a week from 16 Hens during August and September, while this year he received 60 eggs per week from 19 fowls, thanks to Karswood. In other words, he got 57 more eggs over yeek. As the birds had to be fed in both years, it follows that Mr. Coster's only expense this year was the value of the Karswood Poultry Spice, which works out at just over 3d, a week for 19 fowls. Last, year with 16 hems I only averaged 2 to 3 eggs a work—a losing money proposition. This year with 19 hems I have averaged 80 eggs her week, thanks to Karswood.
