

SEASON'S LAST BIG HANDICAP AT NEWMARKET

Final Summing Up of the Cambridgeshire.

BOUVERIE'S HINTS.

Town Guard Defeated by Papyrus in Criterion Stakes.

Some of the events at Newmarket yesterday dwindled down to meagre fields, but a number of good class horses were saddled. A mild sensation during the afternoon was the defeat of Town Guard by Papyrus in the Criterion Stakes. The other events in yesterday's sport were:—

Racing.—Herod Philip won the Rutland Handicap at Newmarket in a field of fourteen.

Golf.—Roger and Miss Joyce Wethered won two more heats in the Worplesdon foursomes.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE DAY.

Moderate Sport at Opening Stage of the Last Newmarket Meeting.

More than thirty horses will contest a Cambridgeshire of "ifs and buts" to-day. From top to bottom of the handicap there is not one that can be pointed to as having no chance—shades of Light Dragoon! Yet, with few exceptions, there is more hope than confidence behind a multitude of "tips."

Stratford kept his place in what little business transpired yesterday. Yet, strictly on the book of form, he cannot have a lot in hand of Baglehawk and Crubenmore, not to mention the degenerate Re-Echo, who showed something like his old form when finishing second to the Manton colt at the Cesarewitch Meeting. Nor, because Stratford is favourite, does it necessarily follow that Lady Juror can be regarded as the Manton second string.

DOUBLE EVENT FOR TO-DAY.

BANTRY and VULPINA C.*

St. Louis' excellent show in a gallop with Roman Bachelor puts him into the picture. Sicyon has also come into favour again, and, of course, there is Leighton, who can win anything at home and nothing on a racecourse. Any of the trio might "walk in" this afternoon, but the doubts in each case are so real and apparent that common sense demands something more reliable.

POISONED ARROW.

That "something," I suggest, is Poisoned Arrow. At least we know him to be consistent, and behind him is a stable confidence that, without being exaggerated, is very real. Report has it that Captain Gooch, most of all fears Soubriquet, and on the Duke of York Handicap form he can do so with strong reason. Still, Poisoned Arrow has a 7lb. advantage in the weights for that defeat, and on a course that should suit him much better than did Kempton I think he will turn the tables to-day.

Conover, Ceylonee, and even Jacquot are other three-year-olds that must be seriously considered, and it is significant that Sir Abe Bailey's horse has been soundly backed since finishing third in the Cesarewitch. I doubt, however, if he will find the speed necessary to-day. Of those outside the front row Crubenmore might easily prove the pick.

Sunshine, with an occasional light shower, marked the opening stage of the meeting, with the going in almost perfect condition. The racing, however, was very tame for the most part.

Dalblancy, in the absence of Twickenham, beat some horses more unreliable than himself in the Trial Plate, and, as Roman Bachelor and Sanhedrim stayed away from the Limekiln Stakes, Selene had little more than an exercise canter to beat Evander.

TOWN GUARD'S DEFEAT.

Then came one of those surprises that are supposed to be the spice of racing. Town Guard, the season's best two-year-old, was beaten and on his merits by Papyrus in the Criterion Stakes. Lord Woolavington came to see his champion run, and, of course, everybody considered him to be walking over.

For four furlongs he looked like doing so, but in the fifth he began to falter. As the race was run there was no excuse for Town Guard, but I have an idea we did not see the best of him.

Herod Philip found the company and the distance in the Rutland Handicap much more to his liking than the Cesarewitch. It may be that Southern Flight requires a shorter course, and Crevasse may yet win a nice handicap for Lord Derby before the season ends.

Eggesford beat Daugher-in-Law by a head in a rousing set-to for the Old Nursery Stakes. Ctesiphon evidently does not stay a mile, but Argos Lass and Star Chamber ran well enough to be kept in mind for a future occasion.

Princess Charming was always going too well for the older horses in the Dalham Plate, and her success was never in doubt in the last furlong.

Mr. S. S. Harris, the old international, who scathingly condemns modern football.

Joe Childs, who will ride Stratford, the Cambridgeshire favourite, to-day.

MIDNIGHT SELECTIONS BY WHITE KNIGHT.

F. A. CUP COMPETITION.

Draw for Next Qualifying Round of the Magnetic Trophy.

The draw for the third qualifying round of the F.A. Cup competition is as follows: King's Lynn v. Leiston Works Athletic, Clapton v. Leytonstone, Enfield v. Biggleswade and District or Edmonton, Chesham United v. Slough, Guildford United v. Wimbledon, Sittingbourne v. Dartford, Boscombe v. Portsea Gas Co. or Gosport Athletic, Coleford Athletic v. Walton Rovers, Bath City v. Cardiff Corinthians. Ties to be played on the ground of the first-named club on November 4.

The draw for the second round of the London Challenge Cup was also made yesterday and is as follows: Crystal Palace v. Arsenal, Millwall v. Fulham, West Ham v. Barking or Clapton Orient, Hford or Nunhead v. Queen's Park Rangers or Charlton Athletic. To be played November 6. Kick-off 3 o'clock.

FRENCH BOXING VENTURE.

Wells, Goddard and Cowler Invited to Appear in Paris.

A new French boxing syndicate has been formed, and it proposes to stage a tournament at the Velodrome d'Hiver, Paris, next month.

Invitations have been extended to Bombardier Billy Wells, Frank Goddard and Tom Cowler to meet Marcel Nilles, the French heavy-weight. Ciqui, despite his suggested Australian trip, has £500 put up for a fight with any European feather-weight.

A Reuter message from Paris states that Carpentier has formally challenged Siki for a return match through the French Boxing Federation. M. Des-camps lodged the challenge at the earliest possible moment—one minute after midnight yesterday.

"NO SENSE OF SPORT."

Famous Corinthian's Criticism of Present-Day Professionalism.

A remarkable letter by Mr. Stanley S. Harris, the famous amateur and international footballer, was published in yesterday's Times, in which he contends that sportsmanship in professional football is practically non-existent.

Admitting that the individual professional may be good at heart, he contends that he is "a slave of circumstance," and that the crowds have no sense of sport.

"They are there to see their own side win," he affirms, "and have not much interest as to how that result is accomplished, but do their best by fair means or foul to bring it about."

Mr. Harris suggests the scrapping of "the ridiculous rule which makes it possible for a referee to give a foul for a heavy shoulder charge on the plea that it is too violent." He looks for endless fouls against the Corinthians, "who never foul," under present conditions.

To meet the position he suggests that (1) Any player who disputes the decision of the referee shall be reported and suspended for at least three months; (2) If unsportsmanlike behaviour occurs on the part of a crowd, on any ground, that ground will be closed for an indefinite period.

GOLF WIZARDS.

The Wethereds' Sensational Play in Mixed Foursomes.

HOLDERS BEATEN.

The Wethereds—the long-hitting Roger and his sister, Joyce, the lady champion—played all-conquering golf in the mixed foursome tournament at Worplesdon yesterday, winning each of their matches by 7 holes.

Against W. A. Powell, the Kent cricketer, and Mrs. C. S. Hurst, the Wethereds won the first four holes, and it was only an accident that prevented them taking the fifth. Roger Wethered had hit a prodigious tee shot fully 300 yards, and his opponents were not up to him after having played four shots.

However, Miss Wethered, no doubt thinking that her brother could not have got as far as he actually did, played the wrong ball, and this mistake entailed the loss of the hole.

In the afternoon, against Alan Macbeth and Mrs. Temple Debell, who, as Miss Raynecroft, won the championship in 1912, the Wethereds played the same merciless sort of golf, winning six consecutive holes from the first, which they had lost. Their play was practically flawless; both through the green and on the green they scarcely wasted a stroke.

Once more the women played finely. E. R. Scovell, who won the King William IV. Medal at St. Andrews last month, would admit that his partner, Miss Joy Winn, "carried" him to victory against C. C. Hezlet and his sister, Mrs. Hutton. They began brilliantly, winning the first four holes in 4, 4, 4, 2, but then Scovell was seized with an apparently incurable fit of topping with his wooden clubs. But, though the lead was lost, Miss Winn played the recovering shots gallantly, and held every possible putt. But in the afternoon R. B. Vincent and Miss P. Read did not let them off in the same way, and they were beaten.

T. A. Torrance and Miss E. Helme, the holders, played together with fine understanding against W. H. Ricardo and his wife, but against them, after lunch, were Douglas Fish and Miss Jocelyn Rogers, the Burnham player.

Miss Rogers played her part admirably, and helped considerably to knock out Torrance and Miss Helme on the last green.

Other third round winners were:—Mrs. R. V. K. Finlay and H. Le Fleming Shepherd; Miss P. Lobbett and Captain Pearson; Miss P. Taylor and Captain D. Peplow; Miss N. Farwell and G. Russell; Mrs. Patey and E. Noel Layton.

THIRD TIME OF ASKING.

The A.F.A. Cup fight between the Canals and Kingstonsians this afternoon, at Wimbledon, will assuredly be settled one way or the other. How evenly balanced those teams must be.

The Casuals have been obliged to bring in new players for this mid-week match, but as they are all taught the same style of play there should be no question of want of cohesion.

Can you look your tongue in the face?

Do you get up in the morning with a nasty taste in your 'mout,' and a dark-brown coated tongue, that you shudder to look at in the glass? Do you enjoy the real flavour of what you eat and drink and smoke? Or has that "coppery" taste got into everything?

If so it is because your digestive system is out of order. A furred tongue is one of Nature's ways of indicating that all is not as it should be inside you. In all probability you do not get enough fresh air or exercise, are sitting down nearly all day, work too hard, worry too much and snatch hasty, unsuitable meals at midday.

This state of affairs cannot easily be avoided under modern conditions of life, but Nature makes no allowance for those conditions. Sooner or later she rebels. The first sign is the coated tongue; then follow headaches, depression, constipation and all the other ills arising out of a disordered liver and kidneys. It is a duty that you owe to yourself to quicken up the action of these organs, to clear your blood, gently and surely to cleanse the impurities from your system. You can do this by taking Kruschen Salts.

Kruschen is a combination of six salts, all of which are necessary to keep your body in perfect health. If you lived a vigorous open-air life, your system would be able to extract these salts from your food. As it is, you require Kruschen. Just enough to cover a six-pence, taken every morning in your breakfast cup of tea, will soon make a new man of you. You will wake up in the morning with a clean pink tongue, feeling properly refreshed by your night's sleep, bright-eyed and alert, ready to attack another day's work and another day's play.

Kruschen will give you the courage to look your tongue in the face every morning.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for a Farthing a Day

A 1/9 bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 96 doses—enough for three months—which means good health for less than a farthing a day. The dose prescribed for daily use is "as much as will lie on a six-pence," taken in the breakfast cup of tea. Every chemist sells Kruschen. Get a bottle to-morrow.
