BRIGHTON RACES SAFE

There is no likelihood of the Jockey Club refusing consent to the Brighton race meeting being held this year.

A rumour that the meeting might not be allowed started because of the fact that a portion of the track between the five-furlong starting post and the winning post had been damaged by people living on a new housing estate, who constantly crossed the course to reach the town by the shortest possible way.

VALERIUS WELL BEATEN BY FLAMENCO

Successful Raid by Lambourn Stables TO-DAY'S HINTS

By BOUVERIE

THOSE who have got long prices about Windsor Lad for the Derby will be delighted with themselves after the result of the Newmarket Stakes. The records will show that Windsor Lad beat Flamenco by a length, but only those who saw the race can appreciate the full value of the victory.

Windsor Lad had two different and distinct races during the mile and a quarter gallop on a course that finds out weak spots in all but the stoutest. In the first he had to shake off a very determined Valerius, and when he had accomplished the task down swooped Harry Wragg on Flamenco, who had been kept in the rear for a burst of speed at the finish.

Winner's Stamina

It was a cleverly thought out piece of work and brilliantly executed. Halfway down the hill Flamenco had drawn level with Windsor Lad, and onlookers were quite prepared for yet another Derby hope to be shattered. Then, however, out came the fighting qualities of Windsor Lad. Smirke showed him the whip, and a final burst up the hill took him out of danger, and in the end he was leaving them all behind.

Flamenco was such a long way behind Colombo in the Guinness that it can be argued that Windsor Lad has still a long way to go to catch up the favourite. But as I have pointed out, the horse that has proved his stamina is never safe to leave out at Epsom, and although he will not be one of the most distinguished-looking individuals in the Derby, there will be nothing in the field we know will stay better. In other words, Windsor Lad is going to be a big danger to Colombo and all of them.

Horses to Note

Valerius finished three lengths behind Flamenco, and as he had every chance it hardly appears worth while considering him seriously for Epsom. For another course, probably Ascot, Black Devil is certainly worth keeping in mind. He was about the best looking horse in yesterday's field. For nearly a mile he was going as well as anything. Scornful is another nice colt who should be heard of a little later on.

Windsor Lad's victory was the third in succession for Lambourn horses, and Almond Hill made it four when she outstayed the Newmarket hope, Shalfeet, in the Shelford Plate. Papilla f. and Hoplite were the others, and although the draw may have made all the difference between them where the former and Broadcaster were concerned, Hoplite certainly completed Cottrill's double on merits.

Smart-Two-Year-Old

Maltravers continued the good work of Frank Butters' two-year-olds by winning the Spring Plate very easily from Sea Bequest after making the whole of the running. Mumtaz Begum, a daughter of the famous "Mumty," showed speed that suggests she will win on an easy course and it might be wise to forgive the well-backed Fairhaven this defeat. Lord Derby's colt did not begin as many of the others and was always in a hopeless chase.

Mrs. A. James, who will be represented by Glycerium in the Bedford Stakes to-day.

THREE FOR BOUVERIE

Bouverie's winners yesterday were:—

- MALTRAVERS (2 to 1).
- WINDSOR LAD (11 to 8).
- WANTALOT (4 to 5).

Windsor Lad (nap) and Wantalot was his double, and Windsor Lad and Maltravers were the successful horses in the tote double. Bouverie's other three selections were all second.

Gay Dancer missed an earlier event to go for the Wilburton Handicap this afternoon, and it reproducing his form behind Tiberius at the last meeting he must take a lot of beating. At the same time I am not certain that he is one that always does his best, and as Gamesmaster certainly does he is probably a safer choice. Capablanca is well fancied and should be in the first three.

The fact that Richards rides Whin determines my choice in the Flying Handicap. The filly was not in luck's way when beaten at Sandown, but there should be no room for misfortune in a small field on a wide course to-day. Sudan, whose form has been consistency itself, is an obvious danger, though it will not be in his favour if the going dries up. Gela is another who does not like the ground too firm.

Patriot King should turn the tables on Tiberius at the altered weights in the Payne Stakes, and also beat Galadale on their previous running. In other words, he looks a winner. The danger is Wychwood Abbot, who is a good stayer, and I hear has done particularly well since his last race.

REALLY OPTIMISTIC

Windsor Lad's Owner Says He Does Not Seriously Fear Colombo

Following the victory of Windsor Lad in the Newmarket Stakes yesterday, H.H. the Maharajah of Rajpipla said: "I am very pleased with my colt's performance, which was smooth and satisfactory in every way, and I am very hopeful of winning the Derby. I do not seriously fear Colombo. Anyhow, my horse has proved he can stay."

Odds of 7 to 1 were offered against Windsor Lad for the Derby after his win yesterday, but this price was not accepted.

BLAZONRY OUT OF DERBY

Blazonry was scratched from the Epsom Derby and Eclipse Stakes at 11.35 a.m. yesterday.

HYPERION'S NEXT RACE

It has not yet been definitely decided whether Hyperion will run for the Coronation Cup at Epsom, but in all probability that will be the arrangement. Afterwards the colt will be specially prepared for the Ascot Gold Cup.

STABLE NEWS

Wychwood Abbot Expected to Win Again

NEWMARKET, Wednesday.

At the concluding stage of our meeting to-morrow there will be plenty of runners for the majority of the six events.

Since winning at Hurst Park Wychwood Abbot has done extra well, and he is expected to score again in the Payne Stakes.

Chittagong can be given a chance, and Marceilles and Solace will be among the field, but preference is for Wychwood Abbot.

Fairhill has improved since running fourth to Zanoff at Epsom, and is the likely winner of the Harston Selling Plate if saddled.

Glycerium, a stable companion of Fairhill, is an improving colt, and may be good enough to win the Bedford Stakes.

Gay Dancer should run well in the Wilburton Handicap, a remark which applies also to Graceful Lad in the Norfolk Stakes.

If he strikes off with the others Bay Monk should find the Flying Handicap within his capabilities.

FROM OTHER QUARTERS

Weyhill.—Whin should account for the Flying Handicap (4.30).

Manton.—Tiberius (3.30) is expected to win the Payne Stakes.

Beckhampton.—Ben Marshall (2.30) is fancied.

The Covenanter (2.0) will go close.

Ogbourne.—Whataday may make a successful debut in the Norfolk Stakes (4.0).

Lambourn.—Patriot King (3.30) should win Greenore (4.30) is also fancied.
